To Whom It May Concern:

Ted Kingsley has work for Chico Nut Company through the past eight months. During this time he demonstrated notable competence in the key qualities we require in our managers. He is willing to do any task needed to complete a day's work. He takes new challenges and applies what he knows to find out what he does not currently know. He is reliable, trustworthy, motivated, self-starting, and communicates clearly. His unique combination of skills is rare in today's work environment.

Ted's character is an asset to anyone he is around.

Sincerely,
